From high-end catering to high-street coffee shops – Tri-Star’s got it covered!

Tri-Star Packaging is showcasing a trio of cutting edge out-of-home concepts at this year’s Lunch! show, which runs from 29-30 September at Old Billingsgate in London.

Exhibiting on Stand D422, Tri-Star will be offering visitors to Lunch! a chance to see at close hand its stunning Mozaïk fine dining and buffet range, which comprises a superb selection of appetizer dishes, plates and platters (with lids), cutlery, utensils and serving bowls for caterers operating in the high-end market.

Available in black, white or waterfall green, the Mozaïk range is manufactured from rPET incorporating 50% recycled post-consumer waste. However, its appearance is similar to high quality ceramic in the case of the dishes, plates, platters and bowls, and to solid silver cutlery in the case of the knives, forks, spoons and utensils.

The Mozaïk range offers caterers supplying platters and buffets an excellent opportunity to enhance the quality profile of their service and generate higher profits. All products can be re-used up to three times, offering cost savings and environmental benefits through waste reduction.

Tri-Star’s stand at Lunch! will also feature PortaTray™, a revolutionary new flat-pack, pop-up drinks carrier that requires just half the storage space of traditional products.

Designed to take small bottles and cups of most sizes, the 4-cup kraftboard carrier splits easily into two 2-cup trays, making it one of the most versatile multi-drink trays available and eliminating the need for businesses to hold two different kinds of drinks tray in stock.

Safe and easy to use, the PortaTray™ can be ‘clicked up’ in seconds by staff and consumers, cutting queuing times by up to 25% and helping to guarantee a smooth flow of trade and satisfied customers. The PortaTray™ grips cups and bottles to ensure stability even at a 45° tilt, reducing the risk of accidents and making it suitable for busy shop floors and cafés.

Meanwhile, visitors to Lunch! will among the first to see Tri-Star’s new environmentally friendly Pulp platter. Available in two sizes, the Pulp platter is designed to provide an extremely high standard of food presentation and, thanks to its rigidity, excellent stability. The platter has been designed to fit Tri-Star’s existing rPET lids and complements the company’s Pulp salad container and hot food boxes.

Lee Richards, general sales manager at Tri-Star, said: “Lunch! is the perfect show for us to showcase these three fantastic innovations, each of which can make a huge positive difference to any business, whether they’re operating at the high end of the foodservice market or running a high-street coffee shop.

“These products combine great presentation and functionality with sustainability, providing the perfect out-of-home solution for any company serious about enhancing their service and boosting their profits. We look forward to welcoming visitors to see these great products, and more, at this year’s Lunch! on Stand D422.”
